YOUNG SHIPMAN WINS PRIZE.
The Raleigh Boy Scouts closed their campaign for the sale of Liberty Loan bonds yesterday, having disposed of a total of 110 bonds, aggregating $16,500, the majority of which were small bonds. The Scout leading with the sale of the largest number of bonds was William Shipman, son of Commissioner of Labor and Printing M. L. Shipman, who sold twenty-six. Edwin Crow followed, with twenty-five bonds. Others who won 10 or more, thus entitling them to the War Service Emblem, are: Preston Rogers, 13; Carl Mason, 12; John Ward, 10; and William Harding, 10.

William Shipman won the dollar offered by the Scout master to the Scout selling the most bonds in the required time. Special honor, however, goes to Edwin Crow, who had sold only twenty-five at the time the contest closed, but who sold eight more after it closed, making his total thirty-three.

When reports were made, Mr. E. B. Crow delivered a short talk to the boys, congratulating them for their patriotic service. Since this is the first time Scouts have ever been called upon by the President for any service, it is a source of gratification to the friends of the organization in Raleigh that they accomplished such splendid results.

One of the Scouts who deserves special mention is Carl Mason, who, although not yet a full-fledged Scout, being on the waiting list, sold twelve bonds.—News & Observer.

WHY NOT HAVE CO-OPERATIVE POTATO-CURING HOUSES?
For the average farmer, it would be unprofitable, of course, to invest in an expensive potato house, but if ten farmers combine in such a venture the cost to each man will be low and the storage will be ample for all concerned. Suppose a farmer makes a crop of three hundred bushels. He ought to be able to do this on two acres of land. Ten farmers with this amount will have three thousand bushels of sweet potatoes. It sold at fifty cents the bushel in the fall they would receive $1,500 for the crop, supposing they did not care to have any for home use. If they had the same potatoes in the spring the crop would be worth at least double—it always has been so for many years. This leaves a difference of $1,500, and for this sum or less, these ten farmers could build a house which would not only store the potatoes for one year but for a lifetime.

And it is just as easy to get together and have a community affair like this as it is to form a stock company in town here for four or five times as much. The principle is exactly the same. A stock company can be formed, though there are details, reports to State and Federal authorities, and all that sort of thing that are troublesome. Ten men can get together and form a limited partnership company which would answer all purposes and save legal expense and reports to governmental authorities.

Very good, says one man, but neighbors are likely to fall out and not make a success of it. Business folks in town go into stock companies and the falling out business does not cut much figure. If a man gets dissatisfied, he gets out, if he can, by selling out, even at a loss. If he does not he just takes it as part of the day's work and goes on. Besides people need to bear and forbear more. Communities succeed when there is a real community spirit. It is very well to be independent, but all of us are dependent on earth.—Progressive Farmer.

Bowel Complaints in India.
In a lecture at one of the Des Moines, Iowa, churches a missionary from India told of going into the interior of India, where he was taken sick, that he had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with him and believed that it saved his life. This remedy is used successfully in India both as a preventive and cure for cholera. You may know from this that it can be depended upon for the milder forms of bowel complaint that occur in this country. Obtainable everywhere.

FREE LECTURE AT CITY HALL ON FOOD CONSERVATION.

The Parent-Teachers Association of Hendersonville, has secured the promise of a lecture on Food Conservation or some similar subject, from Mrs. McKimmon, State Home Demonstration Agent.

Mrs. McKimmon will give this lecture at the city hall on Friday night, June 22nd, at 8 o'clock.

The citizens of the town and adjoining communities, both men and women, are earnestly requested to be present, as we expect to learn many things of value in regard to saving our food for winter's use, and perhaps preparing foods for the market. The ladies belonging to the Canning club are especially urged to be present.

Miss Allie Rymer, Buncombe County Canning Demonstrator, will accompany Mrs. McKimmon, and has kindly consented to "stand by" the ladies of this community in giving demonstrations at various times when we are ready for her.

In view of the facts that we need this work so much just now and that Henderson County has no canning demonstrator, also that Mrs. McKimmon and Miss Rymer are giving their services gratis, we feel that our people should show their appreciation of these ladies' efforts sufficiently to fill the house on Friday night, June 22nd.

Don't forget the date.
MRS. W. P. WHITMIRE,
Chairman Canning Committee.

LOYALTY AND SERVICE.

18,000,000 Church Members Called to Duty for Their Country.
(By Rev. Charles Stelzle.)
A call for loyalty to the United States and aid in every way possible toward successful prosecution of the war for democracy has been sent out to its 18,000,000 members by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America.

"Most of us believe the love of all men, which Christ enjoins," the document reads, "demands that we defend with all the power given us the sacred rights of humanity. But we are all at one in loyalty to our country and in steadfast and whole-hearted devotion to her service."

The duties of the members, enumerated in the call, should be:

"To purge our own hearts clean of arrogance and selfishness;

"To steady and inspire the nation;

"To keep ever before the eyes of ourselves and of our allies the ends for which we fight;

"To hold our own nation true to its professed aims of justice, liberty and brotherhood;

"To testify to our fellow-Christians in every land, most of all to those from whom for the time we are estranged, our consciousness of unbroken unity in Christ;

"To unite in the fellowship of service multitudes who love their enemies and are ready to join with them in rebuilding the waste places as soon as peace shall come;

"To be diligent in works of relief and mercy, not forgetting those minorities to the spirit to which, as Christians, we are especially committed;

"To keep alive the spirit of prayer, that in these times of strain and sorrow men may be sustained by the consciousness of the presence and power of God;

"To hearten those who go to the front, and to comfort their loved ones at home;

"To be vigilant against every attempt to arouse the spirit of vengeance and unjust suspicion toward those of foreign birth or sympathies;

"To guard the gains of education, and of social progress and economic freedom, won at so great a cost, and to make full use of the occasions to set them still further forward, even by and through the war;

"To keep the open mind and the forward loom, that the lessons learned in war may not be forgotten when comes that just and sacred peace for which we pray;

"Above all, to call men everywhere to new obedience to the will of our Father God, who in Christ has given Himself in supreme self-sacrifice for the redemption of the world, and who invites us to share with Him His ministry of reconciliation;

"To such service, we would summon our fellow-Christians of every name. In this spirit we would dedicate ourselves and all that we have to the nation's cause. With this hope we would join hands with all men of good-will of every land and race, to rebuild on this war-ridden and desolated earth the commonwealth of mankind and to make of the kingdoms of the world the kingdom of the Christ."
